

Dear Families

It has been an incredibly uplifting and productive term at Queen Elizabeth's. Our core task has been the no small matter of supporting our Sixth Formers and Year 11 students to navigate the exam season successfully while enabling students across all year groups to maintain a strong focus and give their best in subject end of year assessments.

We know that what a great education does for our children is to develop not only their knowledge, but their character, confidence to get involved and their wisdom. I hope that the huge variety of wider opportunities that are showcased in this newsletter give you a flavour of how we have been doing that over the past few months. We are hugely proud of our students' achievements; their work ethic, sense of humour, and how they look after each other through the challenges they face growing up. We want the very best for them and their future selves.

School meals update

No one can learn on an empty stomach. We are pleased to share that Dolce, our catering provider are extending their free breakfast service to all students. This will now include toast and fruit in addition to the porridge that has previously been offered.

- Breakfast will be available on both campuses, in the canteen from 8.30am.
- Free porridge will also be available during the first break of the day.
- At Western Road, the Atrium will offer additional breakfast items for students to buy. This will include breakfast wraps, pastries and bacon rolls.
- Student Reception on both sites will continue to stock breakfast cereal bars, available to all students.

Please do encourage your child to get involved in the life of the school outside of academic lessons if they have not done so this year. We want all our students to love coming to school and to feel a sense of belonging to QE. Getting involved in something new is often the spark that lights a fire to becoming a different and more confident person. Let your child's Head of Year know if there is anything we can do to overcome any barriers to participating and connecting in the next academic year. We will do our bit next year by updating you about all the clubs and activities we run on a regular basis.

I hope that I get the opportunity to meet more of you in the Autumn Term, in the meantime have a fantastic summer.

ISSUE 48 SUMMER TERM 2023

All That Jazz!

On Thursday the 22nd of June, some of QE's finest musicians spent the evening at KEVICC Performing Arts, in a masterclass with the amazing saxophonist, Emma Rawicz. Alongside students from Cridton Youth Orchestra and Devon Youth Jazz Orchestra they worked on improvisation skills, learning a jazz standard by ear and finished with a mini performance to friends and family. Some super impressive playing from our young musicians and a great experience all round. Well done all!

Emma Rawicz (left) with some of our amazing musicians.

All That Jazz!

At the end of June, QE Jazz Band gave a brilliant performance at Hayward's Primary School's summer fete. The organisers received lots of comments to say how good it was and how impressed they were by such talented young people.

All That Jazz!

Despite the heat, QE Jazz Band's concert tour in the north of Italy has seen them wowing audiences in picturesque locations along the shores of Lake Garda every evening and having adventures during the days. What a rewarding end to a productive and creative year.

Quogwarts

We welcomed Year 5 students from our partner primary schools to QE's annual Quogwarts taster day. From discovering the properties of troll snot in Potions, to Quidditch, Transfiguration and much more besides, the students had a brilliant and memorable time despite the somewhat fickle summer weather! A huge thanks to the QE staff and students who helped to create such a magical day.

Moana Jr.

Photograph © Rory Oliver

July saw QE Theatre Academy Year 7 and 8's performance of Disney's Moana Jr.

For a great number of the cast, this was their first venture into the world of musicals and performing in front of a large audience. They rose to the challenge, learning lines, choreography, understanding the terminology used in the theatre world to navigate the space easily (downstage, upstage, etc.) and all whilst also having to learn two Polynesian languages – Samoan and Tokelauan!

Audiences were impressed, calling the show, incredible, amazing, and brilliant. Congratulations to all involved!

Performing Shakespeare

On Wednesday 24th May, Year 8 student Erin Zorlu participated in the Regional Final of The English-Speaking Union's Performing Shakespeare Competition held at Taunton School. Competing against seven other entries, Erin performed brilliantly in both her monologue as the sharp-witted, sarcastic Katherine from 'The Taming of the Shrew', and the 2-minute speech on her directorial decisions for the monologue beforehand. Although Erin didn't progress through to the national final at the end of June in London, she did herself and QE proud. Well done Erin!

Storyteller

On Wednesday 26th April, Year 7 welcomed local professional storyteller Katy Cawkwell to perform a re-telling of the final play that Shakespeare wrote alone, 'The Tempest'. Year 7 are studying 'The Tempest' this term so it was a great introduction to the complex plot of this wonderful play.

The whole year group sat very quietly and attentively throughout the performance which took place in Barnfield main hall. Katy is a superb storyteller who really brought the story and its characters to life. Many thanks to Katy for all her efforts.

Finding Voices

The spoken word poet and playwright Steven Camden (also known as Polar Bear!) spent the day at Barnfield on Tuesday 16th May and worked with groups of Year 8 boys throughout the day to help them develop their written and spoken 'voice'.

At the start of the day, Steven gave a Year 8 assembly where he encouraged students to care about the characters in their creative writing and to draw on their own families and experiences to create a really meaningful starting point for any creative writing that they might undertake. He also performed some of his poems based around teenage memory and school life.

For the rest of the day, groups of lucky students were able to work with Steven in the library developing some very daring narratives based around desperate characters with dark pasts. We had an Orwellian 'fake estate' where nothing is as it seems and a town built near a lake where an underground cult pipe music up through the waters to lure new members in! Lots of excitement, smiles, laughter and creative thought went on at Barnfield on the day. Thank you to Steven for making the journey from Birmingham to be with us and many thanks to the QE Endowment Fund for providing Year 8 with this life affirming creative opportunity.

Artists at Work

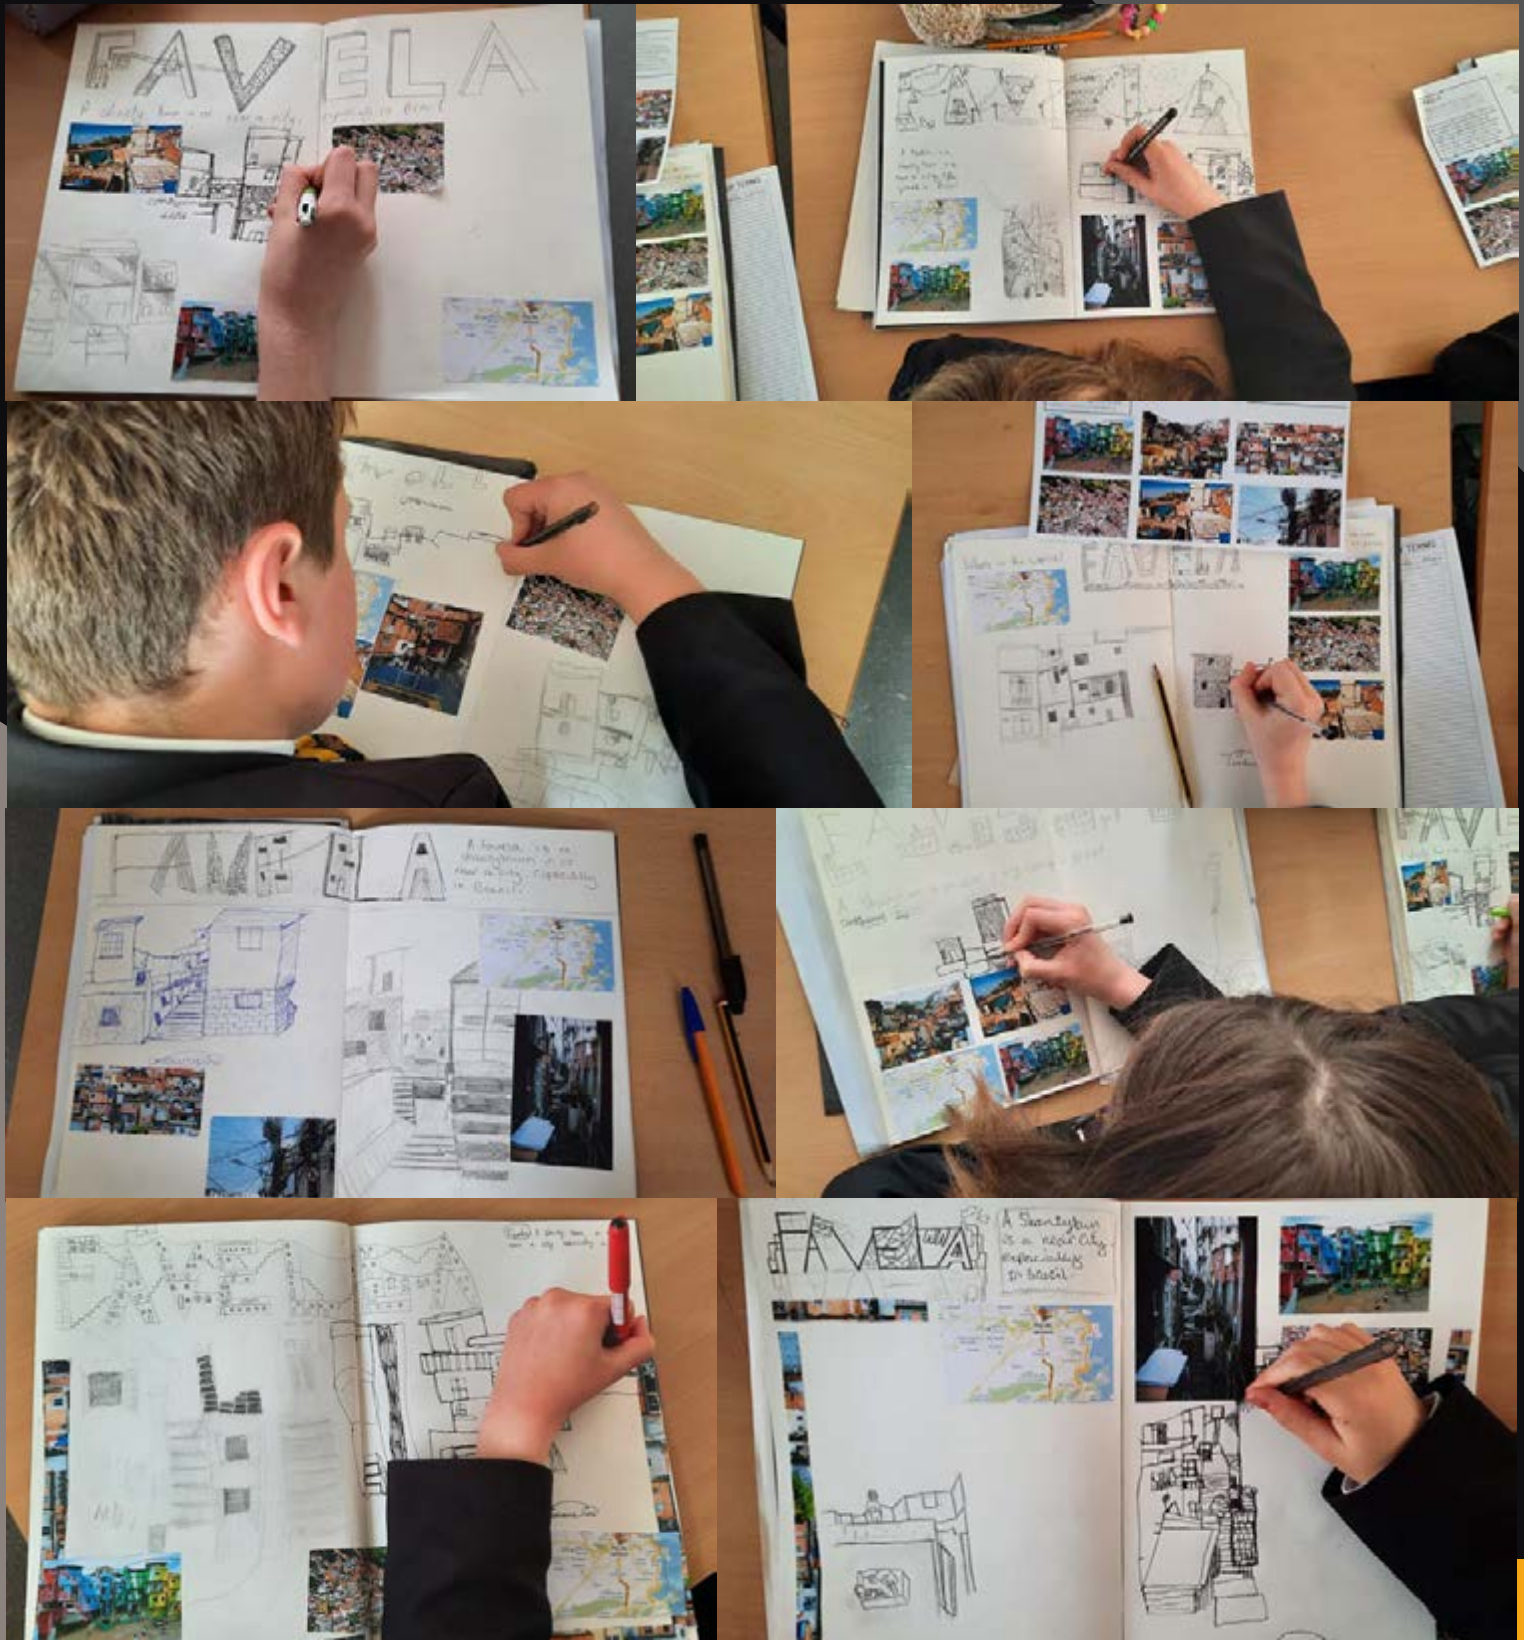

Year 7 have been honing their observation skills by drawing from our resin bug resources. The bugs and the drawings are both FABULOUS! Well done, Year 7s!

Artists at Work

The Year 8s have been working really hard on their sketchbook presentation for the Favela project. They have been on a virtual favela tour and are now experimenting with drawing techniques. This lesson was all about continuous line. Sketchbook presentation is a real skill and the Year 8s have it in spades!

Parlez-vous français?

The Year 8 trip to Normandy was a success with visits to Caen market and castle, the Bayeux Tapestry, a local goat farm and cheese producer, a bowling alley, the D-Day Landing beaches and lots more! Students were impeccably behaved and had many opportunities to practise their French and learn about the history of France and the UK.

A big thank you to the staff who gave up their half term to make this trip possible for our students .

Rhineland, Germany Trip – Easter 2023

We set off from QE at midnight and travelled through the night to Dover. We were so lucky to miss the border chaos by a few hours! The crossing was good and we drove through France, Belgium, and Holland, before arriving at our final destination in the beautiful Rhineland region of Germany, a UNESCO world heritage site.

The next morning we were up early to visit to the lovely, historical town of Koblenz. Our first stop was the 16th Century fortress high above the town. We took the cable car, with stunning views over the Rhine, down to the old town of Koblenz where the students had time to explore and shop. Our afternoon was spent at the medieval Marksburg castle (with a very entertaining tour guide). To finish the day we crossed the Rhine by small ferry to visit the old, traditional town of Boppard on the banks of the Rhine. That evening was games night – not a phone in sight!

Day 2 started with a Rhine cruise. We saw stunning castles, vineyards, mountains and the famous Lorelei rocks and statue. Our afternoon was spent in the picturesque town of Rudesheim. We travelled up the hillside by chairlift, floating over the vineyards, to the famous Niederwald Park and monument to see the fabulous views over the Rhine. Back down again to a guided tour of the town's quirky mechanical music museum. An early dinner followed bowling in Koblenz. Our final fun-filled day was at Phantasialand – one of the best theme parks in Europe. That evening – awards and the Big German Quiz. A very early start to travel home with a quick stop off in Belgium to stock up with chocolate before catching the ferry to Dover. On the way home, students asked if we could make the trip it an annual event!

Musical Talent

Musicians learning to play the piano and violin with QE's peripatetic teacher Carina Vince performed superbly in an after-school concert on Tuesday 11th July. Students performed exam pieces and popular songs with technical precision and flair. Thank you to Carina Vince for all the expertise she offers to our students. For anyone interested in learning to play the violin or piano, please get in touch via our music department.

Innovation

Year 10 students Elly Styles, Rocco Phillips and Adam Robbins, represented QE in the recent Ted Wragg Trust Innovation Competition at Exeter College. Their 'Sustainable Energy Sources' project saw them win the Highly Commended Teamwork prize.

Head of Design and Technology, Wilf Richer, said "This fantastic group of students showed excellent teamwork putting their project together in the short space of time they had available. I'm incredibly proud of them." Congratulations!

Alumni

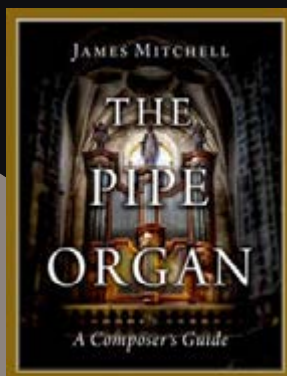

You may remember that not one but two former QE students, Molly McCarthy and James Trott, reached the final of the National Skills Academy for Nuclear (NSAN) Graduate of the Year Award.

The awards, all judged independently by representatives working across the industry and professional associations, celebrated its 15th and busiest year for nominations, with one of the largest and most diverse audiences to date.

Held at the iconic Kimpton Clocktower hotel in Manchester, the evening was hosted by TV presenter Louise Minchin.

Molly took the title of Graduate of the Year with James the runner-up, congratulations to both of them!

"This concise but remarkably comprehensive book is essential reading for music creators. It fills a significant gap. The organ, despite its great history and exciting contemporary presence, has hitherto hardly figured at all in orchestration guides. Composers will find ideas, encouragement, and inspiration within these pages."

—Judith Weir CBE, Master of the King's Music

"This is essential reading for any lover of the organ as a reminder of how historical and important the instrument is. For anyone unfamiliar with the organ, it will be a fascinating journey of discovery, wonderfully written and informative. It could have been so easily dry and predictable, but it is the antithesis of that. What a superb piece of work."

—David Hill MBE, President, Royal College of Organists

JAMES MITCHELL is an organist who graduated from Girton College, Cambridge, with a Double First, subsequently completing an MPhil in Musicology at Emmanuel College, Cambridge. He was Sub-Organist at Gloucester Cathedral from 2011–2013 and performed at the student showcase for the 2013 Royal College of Organists Winter Conference. He is also an award-winning composer, and his music has been published by the Royal School of Church Music.

Former student, James Mitchell, has published a book! 'The Pipe Organ: A Composers Guide' has received illustrious reviews and is available from Oxford University Press.

In addition, James has recently been appointed Cathedral Organist and Head of Keyboard Studies at Sheffield Cathedral.

(Science) Room with a View

This Year 7 chemistry distillation set up got us wondering...

Is there a science lab anywhere in the country with a better view?

Maths Olympiad

Following the Intermediate Maths Challenge, Year 11 student, Isaac Olsson, qualified for the Maclaurin Olympiad where he achieved a Merit.

Maths teacher, John Wright, said "I think we've only had one student in my 25 years at QE ever achieve a Merit at the Olympiad, so very well done! It's a great achievement."

History Club

Students from Barnfield History Club visited Crediton Museum to see their exhibit.

Jump Into Apprenticeships

Kitty Bridger-Tierney, Mats Persson, Ryan Woolacott, Zach Yeandle and James Nursaw have been involved in The Jump into Apprenticeship Programme that has been running throughout Year 10. They have learnt about different pathways and routes into careers and apprenticeships by visiting local businesses.

Ten Tors

Congratulations to our fantastic students who completed the Ten Tors challenge. Their hard work and determination during training really paid off. QE entered five teams this year and all five were finished by mid afternoon on the Sunday. A huge thank you to our staff volunteers and to all the parents and carers who enabled the students to take part. Finally a huge thank you to all staff and parents who provided such an amazing welcome as our teams crossed the finish line.

Service

On Monday 19th June, Year 10 students Shay Wheeler and Jacob Robinson attended a flag ceremony at Crediton War Memorial in honour of Armed Forces Day.

On Saturday 17th June, The Rifles Regiment was awarded the Freedom of Exeter. There were a number of Cadets on Parade from QE, including William Gale and Ben Wonnacott.

William and Ben are pictured here alongside QE teacher, Taylor Ross, who led the Riflemen in the Salamanca Band.

Bronze Duke of Edinburgh Award Celebration Evening

Crediton Mayor, Liz Brookes-Hocking, attended the recent Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme Celebration Evening and said:

"Dear Alice,

Thank you so much for inviting me to the Duke of Edinburgh Bronze Award evening at QE. It was a real pleasure to see so many young people who have taken part in such a wide variety of activities and made the grade. It was a most friendly and welcoming atmosphere, and the young people are clearly supportive of each other. It's a great achievement by the school and I'm sure you and the volunteer staff who make running the programme possible must be delighted for the students and proud of their success. My very best wishes for the continuation of the programme at all levels next year.

Thanks again and best wishes,
Liz"

QE Kids Can

County Champions! Credition RFC Under 16 Girls' Rugby Team, over half of whom are QE students, beat Ivybridge RFC in the final of the Devon Cup in May to become County champions. Credition RFC contact, Liz Gimmler, said "It was an exciting, closely contested match and you can see how much winning the match meant to the girls."

Congratulations!

"Students from Queen Elizabeth's School have gained a huge amount from participation in the EP #AmbassadorSchools programme this year", said QE Teacher Sam Robbins as students were recognised for their contribution to the #AmbassadorSchools programme.

"Our junior ambassadors - Ethan, Theo, Kristin and Joe - have arranged a wide variety of events including assemblies, a digital surgery with a member of the House of Lords, and a languages competition which engaged both the school and the wider community.

A highlight of the year was our participation in the Euroscola programme, where a group of students was able to travel to Strasbourg and participate in a debate in the European Parliament with schools from across Europe. The scheme has been a great way to promote leadership amongst our Sixth Formers and to build greater awareness of European politics and culture across the whole school."

Year 13 Leavers Party

A few photos from a fabulous evening celebrating each and everyone of our Year 13 students.

A Wright Palaver

This year was the 12th appearance of the Wright Palaver - a sixth form gifted and talented event - the brain child of John Wright and Pat Laver. Open to A-level mathematicians from both Year 12 and 13 who competed in six Moses teams. Their mathematical abilities, creativity and ingenuity are all tested but essentially it is an afternoon of fun.

Rounds vary from year to year but examples are orienteering, lateral thinkers and cooperative problem solving. We always finish with a human board game - this year a chariot race overseen by Caesar and his Egyptian slave girl. A very tight contrast this year so congratulations to the joint winners!

Uniform

Thomas Moore's will now be the main supplier of our School Uniform. This is available to purchase via their website and in their store, in Exeter. They are also stocking our PE Kit, which will cease to be available from our Library shops. Please note that the compulsory element of the PE kit is the branded Polo Shirt. Unbranded black shorts can be worn and must be plain and loose fit.

Nut Free

From September we would like to be a nut free school and ask for your support with this. We have a number of students who have severe nut allergies. We are asking that home packed lunches and snacks are also nut free. Dolce are currently a nut free provider and will continue to uphold this.

Careerpilot

Over the last few weeks students in Years 7-10 have registered to use Careerpilot. This site provides free, careers information and tools for 11-19 year olds, all in one place- and a Parent Zone for you!

Over the summer holiday, you may have time to explore this resource with your child. Conversations with supporters at home can really help students ask relevant questions during careers based conversations at school.

Watch the Careerpilot video which explains what your child can be doing to manage their career.

Take a look at the Careerpilot Parent Zone and see the letter sent home via email for more details about how this resource can help you and your child.
